Subrights and Permissions/Legal/Contracts/
Licensing

INTERNS

Two new groupings—Literacy Specialists and Business of Publishing—have been added to better reflect the variety of work being done.

*These roles in past surveys were their own category with their own pie graphs, respectively. In this survey, our academic analysts grouped Book Reviewers under the Marketing and Publicity umbrella and Literary Agents under the Business of Publishing. There are close-up charts that pull out the demographics for these influential gatekeepers, so the data can be easily compared to previous results.
